Board Approves Patronage Retirement

Since our members are our owners and investors, the co-op will periodically return dividends in the form of patronage capital retirements. Be sure to look on the December statement for your portion of the patronage retirement in the form of a bill credit.

In the last 84 years, your Cooperative has returned more than $2.7 million to its member-owners. At Calhoun County REC, we're proud of our rural heritage and the founding principles of our incorporating members. Eight decades later, those principles continue to guide us as we make long-term decisions to ensure safe, reliable, and affordable energy for our member owners.

If you have questions about our policies or our cooperative structure, please don't hesitate to contact us.

7 COOPERATIVE PRINCIPLES:

- Voluntary and open membership without discrimination
- Democratic member control

Fire Department Donation

A $1,000 donation in correlation with CoBank and Corn Belt Power was made to the Lytton Area Emergency Services Agency to help with construction costs of their new fire station that was built on the West edge of town.

Lytton's old fire station served the community for over 70 years. However, the building was no longer adequate. The new facility provides faster response times, a training area, taller doors to accommodate bigger trucks, a secure office space, and a bigger meeting room. It also has a parking area so that firemen can access the facility faster and more efficiently. Congratulations to the Lytton community on their new fire station!

Five Ways to Stay Cozy this Winter

Baby, it's cold outside! When you're feeling chilly at home, there are several budget-friendly ways you can keep comfortable without turning up the thermostat.

Here are five easy ways to stay cozy this winter.

1. Whether you're experiencing extremely cold winter temps or you simply "run cold," an electric blanket can deliver quick warmth like a regular throw or blanket cannot. Electric blankets can include a variety of features, like timers and dual temperature settings (if your cuddle buddy prefers less heat). This winter, consider an electric blanket instead of turning up the heat, and your energy bill will thank you.
2. One of the easiest ways to stay cozy at home is to keep your feet warm. Our feet play a critical role in regulating body temperature, so when your feet are warm, your body automatically feels warmer. Try a pair of comfortable wool socks or house slippers to stay toasty.
3. On winter days when the sun is shining, take advantage and harness natural warmth from sunlight. Open all curtains, drapes and blinds in your home to let the sunshine in—you'll be able to feel the difference.
4. Another way to make your home cozier is to use a humidifier. Cold air doesn't hold water vapor like warm air, so by adding humidity inside your home, you can feel a little warmer. A favorable level of humidity inside your home can also help clear sinuses, soften skin and improve sleep.
5. Beyond adding visual appeal to your home, area rugs can also provide extra insulation and a warm surface for your feet on cold winter days. Use large area rugs in rooms where you spend the most time. You'll enjoy the new colors and textures of the rug, and the additional warmth will help keep your home comfortable.

These are just a few ways you can stay cozy this winter without turning up the thermostat. Don't forget the hot chocolate!

Energy Efficiency Tip of the Month

Energy bills can increase during winter for a variety of reasons, like houseguests, more time spent at home, and shorter days and longer nights. Small actions, like turning down your thermostat, replacing old bulbs with LEDs and washing clothes in cold water can help you save.
